About Queens Memory

Queens Memory is an ongoing community archiving program supported by Queens Public Library and Queens College, CUNY. We provide training and materials for anyone wishing to contribute oral history interviews, photographs or other records of their neighborhoods, families, and communities for archival preservation.

Volunteer

There are many ways you can help us preserve Queens' cultural heritage. As a community volunteer, you can help at our community history events, go on assignment to photograph a neighborhood, process oral history recordings, and much more. If you are interested in volunteering, please visit QueensMemory.org/get-involved.
