

Fluoride, Dental Caries, and Oral Health

Asian American Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander Heritage Month at Brooklyn Library. The panel will feature book co-editor Chee Wang Ng and activist Virgo Lee. Welcome remarks will be delivered by New York State Assembly Member Ron Kim and New York City Commissioner on Human Rights Rocky Chin.

QUEENS PUBLIC LIBRARY

FLUSHING

ASIAN AMERICAN, NATIVE HAWAIIAN, AND PACIFIC ISLANDER HERITAGE MONTH
A Legacy of Leadership and Resilience | QUEENSlib.org/AA/NH/P2025

CORRY LEE'S ASIAN AMERICA, BOOK PANEL

Join with editor
 & Virgo Lee, for an intimate panel discussion on the acclaimed book, Fifty Years of Photographic
 Justice: Corry Lee's Asian America.

Moderated by Jiefei Faye Tsun of the Queens Memory Project and opening remarks by NY Assembly Member Ron Kim & NYC Commissioner on Human Rights
 Rocky Chin.

This program is funded by a Starr Grant.
 Co-sponsored by the QPAA/NH
 Heritage Month Committee: The Estate of Corry Lee; CPC Nian Shan Older Adult
 Center; Lewis Latimer House; Assembly
 Member Ron Kim; NYC Commission on Human Rights; Chinese American Planning
 Council; Practical Society; CUNY Row
 Inc.; Forest Hills Asian Association.

Thursday, May 1, 5:30pm

IN-PERSON FLUSHING (ROOM A8B)

41-17 Main Street - (718) 361-1200
 140 Baychester Mall
 URRB Port Washington Line to Flushing-Main St.
 Q23, Q24, Q27, Q29, Q28, Q26, Q28, Q27, Q34,
 Q44, Q50, Q58, Q65, Q66

VIRTUAL

Join on Zoom: queenslib.org/37cd
 Meeting ID: 833 9180 7019
 Passcode: 383217

LEWIS
 LATIMER house

RISE Now
www.risenow.org

1325
 LIBERTY PLAZA
 CHINESE ASSOCIATION

SPCUNY
 CHINESE SENIOR CENTER

ADVANCING the COMMUNITY
 NYC Commission on Human Rights

Young Corky Lee (1947– 2021) was a Chinese American activist, community organizer, photographer, journalist, and the self-proclaimed "unofficial Asian American Photographer Laureate." His work chronicled the diversity of Asian American culture. Lee was born in Queens and attended Jamaica High School as well as Queens College; he died of COVID-19 on January 27, 2021, at the age of 73.

The panel is being funded by a Starr Grant and is co-sponsored by the Queens Public Library AANHPI Heritage Month Committee; the Estate of Corky Lee; CPC Nan Shan Older Adult Center; Lewis Latimer House; Assembly Member Ron Kim; NYC Commission on Human Rights; the Chinese American Planning Council; Social Practice CUNY; Rise Now Inc.; and the Forest Hills Asian Association.

The discussion will be held in-person from 5:30 to 7 pm at the Flushing Library. Attendees may also join on Zoom at <https://queenslib.org/37cd>.

A dance ensemble performance at the Langston Hughes Community Library, 1976

"Performance & Celebration: Langston Hughes Community Library and Cultural Center, 1976-2010" presents highlights from more than 1,000 recently discovered photographs in the library's collection. These images showcase music and dance performances held in the library's original storefront, its current building, and throughout the Corona-East Elmhurst community. Spanning decades, the photographs capture the neighborhood's vibrancy and the crucial role of performing arts gatherings in the community.

This exhibition is curated by Marla Byrne and Nande Walters, the 2024-25 Oral Historian for Corona East Elmhurst Library. Call for questions at 718.261.2200.

The photo exhibition runs from this weekend through June in the second floor gallery at Queens Library's Lenox Hill Branch Community Library and

A community screening event to commemorate the

On March 19, 2025, the Queens World Film Festival, Queens Memory, MetroPlus Health, the Queens Economic Development Corporation and The Local LIC created a space for films, memories and conversations relating to the 5th anniversary of the COVID-19 pandemic. See highlights of the evening in this photo video, were and

On May 3, 2024, the Memory Walk will take place in Queens. Program producers Yolanda Williams and Linda Williams are looking for people to help them tell the story of the place where you are sharing the story of your place in Queens. Participants will use writing prompts to interact with Queens Name Explorer, learning the historical significance behind the people's names that grace our streets, parks, monuments and more. They will then explore their place in Queens by picking a point on the map and tracing tales of their experiences on that spot to enrich local history with our unique stories. Plus, there will be a special presentation from the Greater Astoria Historical Society. The workshop will be held from 2 to 4 pm at the Queens Library Broadway branch; register here.

View west from Hallett's Point south of Astoria Boulevard, Roosevelt Island lighthouse center; photo by Joseph Sandor, 1945

Our featured oral history this month spotlights Barbara Schadlow, who grew up in Flushing Meadows housing and attended Queens College from 1955

In this interview, she reflects on her time at the school as an education major and especially as a member of the Doll House house plan. Being a part of Doll House was tremendously influential, as it gave her a much fuller experience of campus life and resulted in numerous lifelong relationships.

condow later returned to Queens College for her master's in elementary education. After teaching for several years, she has spent most of her career in teacher education and online learning consulting.

This interview was conducted by Rebecca Rushfield; listen to the full interview here.

May 8 – At our oral history interviewing workshop, you will learn how you can

Queens residents. Together we will review tips for oral history interviews, from initial outreach to recording to transcription. Register here. We will follow up with a confirmation and event link. This program is not recorded. (12 - 1)

Queens residents. Together we will review tips for oral history interviews, from initial outreach to recording to transcription. Register here. We will follow up with a confirmation and event link. This program is not recorded. (12 - 1 pm EDT) an opportunity to hear about the work we do with volunteers and community partners across the borough. The Queens Memory team will provide an overview of our programs and cover the many ways you can help as a volunteer and contribute to the Queens Public Library's archival collections. Hear about opportunities to record interviews with Queens residents, contribute photos and other materials, assist with transcription and audio editing, and help with our outreach and programming. Register here. We will follow up with a confirmation and event link. This program is not recorded. (12 - 1 pm EDT)

From 11 AM to 3 PM we will host a special family-friendly Scanning Session honoring Haitian heritage. Bring in a photo or other memento you would like to have digitized for free, and our team will scan your items and share the files on a complimentary flash drive. At 12 noon, artist Rejin Leys will lead a family-friendly activity about Haitian history and the creation of the flag in 1803. We'll learn to make a booklet by folding one sheet of paper and then adding pictures, text and more. Supplies will be provided. Both events are free and no registration is required.

Quoting memory in the professional community colleagues in the library and archives communities. On March 25, several members of our Name Explorer team – Meral Agish, Mary Bakija, David Engelman and Jessica Sucher – led a workshop titled “The People Behind Names: Getting Creative with Civic Data” as part of New York City Open Data Week. The team also gave an abbreviated version of the presentation on April 1 for the NEASIS&T Annual Conference. Next month, CUNY Archivist (and former Queens Memory Director) Natalie Milbrodt and Queens Memory Curator J. Faye Yuan will present “Promoting Your Collections and Program,” as part of the Internet Archive’s Community Webs series. The talk, which discusses using curation, scholarship and outreach to promote community organizations’ collections and programs, will take place